

Jay AMBALIYA

Frontend developer

Meticulous web developer with over 1+ year of front-end expertise. Passionate about responsive website design and a staunch believer in the mobile-first strategy. I'm interested in developing scalable web applications and working across the complete stack. I'd like to work with a platform such as react.js and node.js technology to expand my skill set while also contributing to a beneficial outcome of making people "richer, wiser, and happier."
